Kelly and Terry,

As we are half way through the day here, I really need to receive an update on where the Lloyd's money is. Could you all touch base with Lisa Mak and see if we will be receiving the wire today? If the money was truly wired on Thursday, it would have arrived in their account no later than this morning which was all they were needing to forward payment to Lance. I need an update as soon as possible! Sorry to be a pest, but hopefully you can understand based on the current situation.

Thanks so much,

Laura
